

Regretfully, Masaji Leaves Antioch For Flight Home

"It seems like only yesterday that I got here," said Masaji Okubo, "and now it's time to leave. I have lots of memories, though," he added.

Masaji, Antioch's own Foreign Student, leaves Antioch June 30, next Wednesday. He'll leave Downer's Grove by bus, with other foreign students in the area. They will tour the United States, with Washington, D. C., the last stop. Then to New York, where they will fly to San Francisco. On July 24, Masaji will board a plane in San Francisco for the flight home to Tokyo.

He's sad at leaving Antioch and the U. S., Masaji said, in spite of the fact that he'll see his family after a year's separation. He likes our country, and hopes, some day, to return.

"We'll miss him, too," said Mark Nelson. Mark's the son of the family with whom Masaji lived while in this country, the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Nelson. "We'll miss trying to get him up in the morning, and I'll have to do more dishes, Masaji helped." Both the boys laughed. They both hope Mark can get to Japan to visit Masaji before too long. In the meantime, they plan to correspond.

Is the U. S. different than the idea of our country he had when he came? "Oh, yes," Masaji said, "reading and seeing are different."

Masaji graduated from Antioch High School this spring. Was it difficult for him to pursue his studies in English, we asked. "At first," Masaji said, "now it's easier than in Japanese schools. Now I have trouble writing Japanese. I started a letter to my family two days ago and haven't finished it yet. Now I think in English and have to translate to Japanese."

Had Mark made any progress in learning Japanese from Masaji? They both laughed. "Sayonara and Ohio

—that's as far as I got," Mark said.

Masaji was reluctant to voice any criticism of the U. S., but finally admitted there were a few things he disapproved of. "The kids sneak smokes in the washrooms at school, even though they're not supposed to. In Japan, they obey rules."

Masaji was presented with a watch from the students of Antioch High School. On the back is engraved his name, the date, and "presented by the students of Antioch High School." He took obvious pleasure in the gift.

Masaji took over 600 slides while he was here. He plans to attend college next year, and has applied for admission to the International Christian University in Tokyo. He'll study to be an interpreter.

He spoke before many groups during his year in Antioch—"I got easier toward the last. I was nervous at first," Masaji said. He made many friends. Perhaps, some day, he can return.

Free Chest X-Rays Next Tue. & Wed.

Do you have a minute? That's all the time it takes to have a chest x-ray without charge on the Lake County Tuberculosis Assoc. Mobile Unit which will be stationed in town soon.

The X-ray unit will be in Antioch from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, June 29, and at the same hours on Wednesday, June 30. Mrs. William Brook is in charge of arrangements for workers at the Mobile unit.

Any person 18 years of age or older is eligible to have a chest x-ray which can discover tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer and other respiratory conditions.

Procedure for a person who wants an x-ray is to go to the Unit, register, remove coat and jewelry, empty pockets of blouse or shirt and step in front of the machine.

Later the film is developed and interpreted, the report coded and an individual report sent to the person x-rayed.

Reports may be presented to the Health Dept. for health permits.

The x-rays are paid for by the purchase of Christmas Seals in Lake County and no solicitation is made at the time of x-raying.

Twin Lakes May Establish State Bank

Twin Lakes may have its own State Bank soon.

An application for authority to establish the new bank was filed with William E. Neusse, state commissioner of banks in Wisconsin, last week. Neusse has scheduled a public hearing on the application for August 4.

George Hildebrandt, Jr., Twin Lakes department store operator, is temporary chairman of the 20-member group applying for a state charter.

Others involved in organization of the bank are Kenneth Bjerning, Edward Dicklin, Atty. James W. Bogart, John Eon, Richard G. Burke, Maynard Canright, Edward Goodman, Raymond Gronke, Horace Hildebrandt, Lawrence Kempkin, David Merrill, Hazel Olson, Lloyd Olson, Henry L. Casey, James Schippers, Dr. Charles Slocumb, Leland Stohr, Paul Zima and Dist. Atty. J. B. Molinaro. Most of the organizers are Twin Lakes businessmen.

Residents of Twin Lakes now do most of their banking in Antioch, Silver Lake, Genoa City, Richmond or Burlington.

New Owner Takes Over Main St. Store

The Antioch Packing House meat market on Main St. is under new management, as of about a week ago.

George Bessler, the new owner, is planning a good many changes. He intends to be open longer hours—seven days a week, and from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. from Monday to Thursday.

In addition, Mr. Bessler intends to enlarge his grocery and delicatessen line, and add a much larger supply of frozen foods.

Before coming to Antioch, Mr. Bessler was in charge of the meat department at Ed's Certified Store at Round Lake. He has 29 years experience in the meat trade.

"In fact, I come from a family of butchers," he said. "My father spent his life in this business, and at 72 years of age still has a meat store in Chicago. My grandfather was a Bavarian sausage-maker before coming to this country and continuing his trade as a butcher."

Bessler, his wife and six children live in Round Lake. "Four of them are foster children, but we've had them so long I kind of forget it," Bessler said. One daughter, who will help her father in the store this summer, leaves for Northern Illinois University in the fall, where she intends to study for a teaching career.

Two men, working in shifts, will be furnished by each of the local car-dealers—Stringer Dodge, Teresi Chevys, Olds, Pittman Motors and Lyons-Ryan Ford.

The safety lane will be at the parking lot on Broadway. Cars that pass the test will be given a safety sticker. Where mechanical faults are found, the driver will be given a written notice of the fault.

Jaycees Line Up Beauty Show Entries

The Lake Region Jaycees are lining up contestants for their annual Beauty Pageant in Antioch. This year, the Beauty Queen will be crowned at the Lions Club Bar-B-Q on August 8.

Joan Tanner, Jaycees Beauty Queen last year, will crown the new Queen, who will reign until a new Queen is selected next year.

An entry blank for the Beauty Contest is on another page in this paper. Contestants must have their entries in by July 24. They must be between the ages of 16 and 21.

Each girl is sponsored by a local business. All entrants will display their talent at a show at the Antioch High School. They will also model formal and bathing suits.

The girls will be feted at a dinner in the week before the talent show, attended by sponsors and judges. Preliminary judging on personality, etc., will start at the dinner.

After Saturday night's talent show, five finalists will be selected. The queen will be selected from these five on Sunday.

Bob Lindquist is chairman of the Beauty Contest.

Two Scholarships Awarded At Clavey Youth Benefit Outing

Coroney Pat Clavey's first annual "Youth Benefit" Golf Outing was a smashing success, according to those who attended.

About 350 attended the golf outing and dinner at George Diamond's Country Club last Wednesday. "It was a wonderful turnout," Pat said. "We'll certainly make an annual affair of it."

Two $550 college scholarships were awarded at the dinner. Jim Steffenburg, Antioch High School, was recipient of one of the scholarships; John Edler, Elmhurst, received the other.

Next year, scholarships will be awarded to boys from two other Lake County high schools.

Ill. Tourism Council To Hold Election

An organizational meeting of the Region One Council of Illinois Tourism will be held Tuesday, June 29, at 7 p.m. at the Holiday Inn at North Aurora.

All organizations and individuals interested in promoting tourism within the region, which includes Lake County, are urged to be present.

Last year, says Nick Thomas, president of the Region One Council, some counties were not represented on the Council and the tourism program in those counties suffered as a result.

He emphasized that this is a public meeting and that all in attendance will be entitled to vote on the selection of Council members.

Reflectorized Plates For Cars Approved

Safety inspection of used cars prior to resale, a major part of Secretary of State Paul Powell's traffic safety program, has been approved by the Senate Committee on Highways and Traffic Regulations by a 7 to 6 vote, with two members voting present.

The measure, passed earlier by the House of Representatives, now goes to the Senate Committee on Appropriations.

Another of Secretary Powell's traffic safety proposals became law when Governor Otto Kerner signed the bill authorizing the use of reflectorized motor vehicle license plates. Use of the reflectorized plates will begin with the 1966 plates.

Rt. 59 Businessmen Protest Road Closing

"Democracy in action" apparently won some concessions from the State Highway Department after Tuesday's meeting concerning the closing of Route 59 north of Route 12.

Francis Lorenz, Director of the State Highway Department, and James Dinkheller, district engineer, were present at Tuesday's meeting scheduled by protesting businessmen along the affected road.

A meeting of three members of the businessmen's committee protesting the closing of the road met with James Dinkheller Wednesday morning at his Elgin office. After the meeting, Clarence Sutton, chairman of the businessmen, announced that work on an access road would start immediately and should be completed by the end of July.

Barriades which closed off the road were moved enough to allow a car to enter the closed section of the road. In addition, the businessmen won a promise from Dinkheller to construct an access road to carry traffic to the affected businesses.

In the meantime, better identification will be posted on the portion of the highway that was closed Monday, so that customers can reach the affected businesses. A special engineering problem will necessitate closing the road for five days, but this will be done during the week, Dinkheller promised the businessmen.

"I'm sure these plans will be satisfactory to all concerned. After July 1, the access road means Highway 59 will be open to traffic," Sutton commented.

In addition to Sutton, the men who met with Dinkheller were Walter Erazor, the original subdivider of Knollwood Park and Charles Eberhardt.

Business owners along Rt. 59 in Ingleside and Fox Lake claim that the Elgin office of the State Highway Dept. repeatedly gave them false information, assuring them that highway 59 would be kept open to through traffic during the construction project at the intersection of 59 and U. S. 12.

The owners were assured that an access road would be built, they say, to maintain through traffic while No. 59 was relocated and resurfaced.

Dinkheller said Tuesday that the objections misunderstood what constitutes local and through traffic. The access road, he said, would raise the cost of the project.

"We are trying to keep the cost to the public down," he said.

Route 59 was closed Monday, and is expected to be closed until October. About 20 businesses on No. 59 will be adversely affected by the closing. All depend heavily on resort and transient traffic during the summer months.

The businesses which are protesting the closing are the Chez Francois Restaurant, Deer Haven, Grand Triangle Motel, Sail Inn, Tuck's Squaw Creek Resort, Virg's Grill & Resort, Roman's Poncinio Lounge, Sabatini's Restaurant, Del's Cities Service, Mike's Ingleside Service, Hanson's Boat Shop, Ingleside Bowling Lanes, Mayor Armondo of Fox Lake is joining in the protest.

A spokesman for the group of businessmen said in addition to seeking a solution to their own problem, they plan to send a formal plea to Springfield that state highway engineers consult more closely with local residents when such construction is planned, giving ample notice of plans to close roads, etc.

Clearer signs than are now posted on the closed road will be posted, according to promises, a spokesman for the protesting group said.

"A bus load of people tried to reach Deerhaven after the road was closed Monday," she said. "They were afraid to try to go around the barricade, and spent 1 1/2 hours trying to reach Deer Haven on the detour without success, inquiring at several places along the way. They finally stopped at a service station, and the owner assured them that Deer Haven was accessible and open, and helped them reach it. Most people," she commented,

NI-Gas Extends Service To Channel Lake Area

Northern Illinois Gas Co. is extending natural gas service to Smith's Subdivision at Channel Lake and the northwest shore of Lake Marie, according to Jim Craig, NI-Gas District Superintendent.

Approximately 17,000 feet of gas main is being installed to serve customers in the area. With good weather, Mr. Craig said, the work should be completed in about three weeks.

The new gas mains start at Webb's Boat House on Route 173 and extend south and west to the channel near Charlie's Channel Inn.

H. S. Budget Up Next Year

The tentative budget for Antioch Community High School, adopted at last night's meeting of the Board of Education, totaled $990,445.

The public hearing on the budget will be held at the August 18th board meeting, when the board will officially adopt the 1965-66 budget.

Last year's budget totaled $958,410. The increase of $32,035, according to Superintendent Albert Dittman, reflects an increase in the Educational Fund. Two teachers were added to next year's staff, one in Art and one to relieve the load on the English Department. Raises in teachers' salaries also contributed to the increase.

Mr. Dittman has announced that five schools in the Northwest Conference—Antioch High School, Grayslake, Round Lake, Grant and Wauconda, will participate in a film-purchasing cooperative.

The plan was initiated at Antioch High, and it is believed that the film-sharing plan will provide the schools with better film service at less cost.

Antioch now rents films. Under the plan, the schools will buy films, with each school contributing on a basis of the number of students involved. Under the purchase plan, the National Defense Education Act Fund will reimburse the schools up to 50% of the cost.

The Board of Education approved Antioch's participation in the plan up to a cost of $1,500 per year.

The board accepted Student Accident Insurance with the Loren D. Saxauer Insurance Agency, with John Romer as Agent. The individual student premium is $2.75, with a special premium for football players costing $20 per student. The athletic department pays the football players' premium.

Three teacher resignations were accepted by the board Wednesday night. Lawrence Landis, Social Studies, resigned to accept a position at Drake University; Miss Ann Robinson, dept. of Physical Education, resigned to teach at Hudsonville, Mich., and Fred Stockhecke will teach at a high school in the Bloomington area.

The Board employed two replacements for the resigning teachers. Miss Christie Arndt, girls' physical education teacher, has taught for two years at Wheeling High School and graduated from Northern Illinois University; Norman Craig, who will teach Industrial Arts, is a beginning teacher, a graduate of Southern Illinois University. There are still two teacher positions to fill, according to Dittman.

The board accepted the bid of Sunflower Milk Distributors to furnish milk at a cost of .0559 per one-third quart. The Bowman Co. low bid for ice cream was accepted.

The Board renewed the transportation contract with Emmons School High school buses transport the Emmons students at a per capita charge.

Summer school sessions started last Monday, with a slightly lower enrollment than last year. One hundred and thirty-six students are taking 266 semester hours of study this summer, compared to 206 students last year who took 280 semester hours.

Superintendent Dittman pointed out that the lesser number of students this year are taking more hours of study. "It's hard to pin down a reason for the drop-off in attendance," he said. "It could be that we're doing a better job in the regular school year, eliminating the need for make-up and the desire for extra courses. Or we may have hit a leveling off period for a year or two."

Seek Century Home Owners

Has your family held a farm or a home continuously for one hundred years or more? If so, then the State Fair of Wisconsin is looking for you.

Again this year the State Fair will honor century farm and home owners at a special ceremony on Recognition Day, Tuesday, August 17. The Fair this year runs from August 13 through 22.

Last year, the owners of 162 farms and three homes were honored at the ceremony. Since the Wisconsin Centennial State Fair in 1948, when the first century awards were made, 2,293 farm and home owners have been honored.

Applications for the century farm and home awards may be obtained at the office of the county agent or register of deeds, or by writing to the Publicity Department, State Fair of Wisconsin, State Fair Park, Milwaukee, 53214. The deadline for filing applications is Friday, July 9.

In order to qualify for the award, a title must have been held continuously in the family for one hundred years, but continuous residence on the land or in the state is not required. Only one certificate may be issued for a piece of property.

Proof of title can be made through an abstract of title, land patent, original deed or county land records. The title must be in the name of a blood descendant or a legally adopted child of a descendant.

School summer vacation season now is in full swing. Children's summer freedom adds to the responsibilities of all drivers. Motorists are asked to do their part in helping insure a happy vacation season for all the youngsters.

AGS Band Gives Michigan Concert

Antioch Grade School Band members combined music and pleasure in a three-day tour of Michigan points of interest this month.

The band's bus tour was sponsored by the Antioch Grade School Band Parents Association. George Olisar, band director, accompanied the group.

6 a.m. Wednesday, June 9. Their first stop was at the Kellogg plant in Battle Creek, Mich., where they toured the plant.

Thursday morning the group toured the Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. Here the band played an open-air concert in front of the Museum.

Returning to the motel

Write To Your Senator

Secretary of State Paul Powell, supporting compulsory car inspections, has come up with some survey reports that are very interesting.

The Secretary reports that the survey shows that the people of Illinois are overwhelmingly in favor of the motor vehicle inspection law—in fact, he says, they were in favor of it 2,154 to 177.

Now, surveys are all well and good—they are fine entertainment. But we sort of doubt that this survey shows an honest expression of general opinion in Illinois.

We have not questioned 2,154 people, but all the people with whom we've discussed this matter have been overwhelmingly against it.

It's just possible that the Secretary of State's survey was taken among a slightly biased group. The survey was conducted by Vern Langille, special representative of the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee. He sent questionnaires to safety-check chairmen in 100 communities. Now, safety-check chairmen are highly unlikely to declare themselves as being against safety-checks.

There is also the possibility that the man-on-the-street, surveyed on this question, doesn't know much about how the law will operate if it is passed. Does he know that he will pay a fee to have his car inspected? Who will appoint the garages which will become official inspection sites? How far will he have to travel to have his car inspected? Will he be able to get the job done at his convenience, or will he perhaps have to take a day off from work? And last, and most important, how much actual good will it do? Will compulsory vehicle inspection really make any difference in the accident rate?

We don't believe it will. Compulsory vehicle inspection can not make an alert, careful driver out of a reckless one. And the driver is the important ingredient in cutting down accidents.

The law penalizes the conscientious, careful automobile owner. He's going to keep his car in shape, law or no law. If he suspects something is wrong with his car, is he supposed to wait, perhaps, three months, until it's time for his check-up? Or will he have it fixed now, as he normally would, and then have to pay the extra fee for the check-up, anyway?

This law has too many bad points. Here's a few of them:

1. It's an open invitation to graft. The official inspection garage will almost surely become a political plum. That garage will have a tremendous advantage over every other garage in the neighborhood. The stamp of approval can be given or withheld as the owner pleases. Unneeded repairs can be forced on the car owner.

2. How will police find time to enforce the law? Every police organization in the state is pleading that they don't have enough men to enforce the present laws. Will the taxpayer be forced to pay for more police, to make sure he pays his inspection fee?

3. Whether it's yearly or semi-annually, a safety inspection cannot insure the continued mechanical perfection of your car. It may be O.K. now, and develop a dangerous fault next week. Only the alert, careful driver can spot something wrong in the operation of his car that should be fixed.

5. It adds another expense to the growing mountain of expense of government. Another expense from which the taxpayer can expect little, if any benefit.

The bill has passed the House and is under consideration in the Senate. Write to your State Senator now and let him know how you feel about this law.

Your Congressman Reports...

By Cong. Robert McClory

No major legislation affects the individual American citizen more directly than the bill passed recently raising the national debt to $323 billion (a $4 billion increase). Yet, no major bill is apt to attract less public interest and attention.

Surprisingly, the debt increase measure was passed by the U. S. House of Representatives simultaneously with House action on a bill to cut excise taxes (and thus reduce federal revenues) by almost $5 billion per year.

One aspect of the federal debt which deserves closest attention is the interest which must be paid annually in order to service this huge financial burden. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1965, it is estimated that the interest alone will exceed $11 billion (more than 10% of total annual expenditures). The recent $4 billion increase in the federal debt could result in an estimated $140 million additional interest per year.

While the facetious argument is frequently made: "Yes, but we owe the federal debt to ourselves," the truth is that the federal debt burdens not only this generation but future generations as well, and the securities issued to finance the federal debt secure the integrity of bank deposits, insurance policies and virtually every other type of security upon which our financial structure and our individual security are based. The share of the national debt owed by each man, woman and child is more than $1,600 and about $8,000 for each American family.

By restraining increases in the federal debt, Congress maintains some measure of control over federal spending. In the absence of this control, federal spending might increase by 50% to 100% with the resultant inflation which would follow naturally from such a large increase in the supply of money.

Many in the Executive Branch, including Dr. Walter Heller, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, regard the current economic philosophy of financing governmental operations with borrowed money as a boon to the nation's economy. On the other hand, many Members of Congress are wary that this spend and borrow path may lead soon to an economic upheaval which will then be used as an excuse for increased governmental controls and dictation.

Individual citizens, both entrepreneur and working man, recognize that national prosperity is a product of his investment of capital, skill and labor. The combination of these factors throughout the nation have produced the strong economic system under which our nation has flourished.

There is, indeed, no magic in the neo-Keynesian economic philosophy which seeks to build a still more prosperous society on borrowed money and no amount of planning and fiscal manipulation from the top can replace the productive efforts and capacity of American citizens at work.

The issue involved in the increase in the national debt ceiling is great indeed. Many may feel that it is the gravest issue in recent Congressional history. It deserves the greatest public interest and concern.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

You would think the Pandora's Box opened by the U. S. Supreme Court in its astonishing "one man, one vote" opinion on legislative reapportionment would suffice most people for awhile, but apparently this is wishful thinking.

It was hoped that a flurry of activity in the direction of county board realignment was only a passing fancy borne on the wings of political oratory and inspired by a far-out effort to embarrass the Supreme Court.

Apparently, however, there are legislators in Springfield and some advocates of change for the sake of change who are in earnest in their insistence that the Supreme Court intended every representative body be realigned.

The suggestion that Lake County be carved into some arbitrary number of representative districts for county board membership, is only one of several suggestions that have been advanced.

Most of the suggestions actually seem designed to eliminate township government rather than to improve county board representation.

By eliminating the township as a basis for county board representation advocates of centralized government will make a tremendous gain in their fight against this form of "grass roots" or local government.

Of all the township functions, county board representation seems to this reporter to be the most important.

The township is an established, recognized political unit whose supervisors are generally men with intimate knowledge of their locales and are therefore ideal delegates to the county administrative board.

The county board is not strictly a legislative group in the manner of the Illinois General Assembly since the board can act only with the consent of the legislature and is therefore a creature of the state.

Since the county board is not strictly a legislative body it would seem to be stretching the Supreme Court ruling to the breaking point and beyond to apply the opinion to the board's makeup.

It would appear that the Illinois General Assembly has enough trouble in cutting up the state for legislature and Congressional districts without tampering with a local system that has worked well through the years, is firmly entrenched through tradition, and can continue to function without the creation of new, artificial legislative districts.

The main purpose of the Pat. Clavey golf outing last week might have been non-political, but that didn't keep out potential candidates.

The clambake at George Diamond's Golf Club near Antioch attracted several potential candidates for Sheriff, including a pair who have been mentioned as possible starters in Democratic slugs.

Robert J. Milton, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, was there and appears to be trimmed down almost to campaign weight.

The Lake Bluff political figure said he has been practicing his fast draw in preparation for his campaign, but then admitted that "My thinking on the sheriff's race has not crystallized."

Translated from candidate this means, "Some people have approached me, but I am still lining up support in other areas."

Capt. Harold Scheskie, of the sheriff's office, was on hand to take pictures, shake hands, and in general to make friends and influence people.

Prominent in the various wings of the sprawling clubhouse was Chief Deputy Norris Froelich, the only 100 per cent sure starter in the sheriff's sweepstakes, while Capt. John Brake, of the Waukegan Police Dept., played in a foursome that included Al Heppner, Round Lake industrialist and Avon Township GOP committeeman.

Well-known Democrats who graced the scene included Fox Lake Mayor Joseph Armondo, a former candidate for sheriff who has been mentioned as a possible aspirant again, North Chicago Police Chief John Matijevich, who ran a strong race for State Representative in 1962, and Mark Turner, one of the Democratic leaders in western Lake County.

Herb Horton, of the Antioch Men's Republican Club, took the opportunity to remind the golfers of the Sheriff Charles Larson outing planned for George Diamond's later in the year.

The grass is green (where it isn't turning brown), the water is blue (where it isn't covered with green algae), the suns in the heaven, all's right with the world. Or almost.

The lawn's mowed and the flower garden's weeded. You can sit back and relax and gaze with pleasure on your neat, well-manicured yard.

So an hour or two later you walk out your front door, and what's happened? Bits of gum wrapper, cigarette packages, etc., just here and there on the grass. Trash dropped by passers-by, some of it perhaps wafted on the breeze to rest on your lawn.

This was the plaint of an Antioch householder I chatted with last week. "How do you keep people from littering?" Any suggestions?

SUMMER COMPLAINTS

This is the week for it, I guess. Someone else mentioned those delightful hedg- es that are allowed to grow untrammelled on corners, where they create a hazard for every child and motorist who uses the road. The kind that makes it impossible to see what's on the intersecting road until you're out on it.

Then, of course, there are those vacant lots, an eyesore in an otherwise pleasant neighborhood. Weeds grow waist high, rotting tree branches and assorted junk keep neighbors from mowing the lot in self-defense.

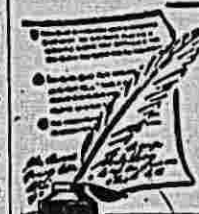

Well, even summer has to have some drawbacks. G. M. (GREAT MINDS)

The Illinois Republican News has some barbed comments this week on the resolution introduced in the Illinois General Assembly by William A. Moore (a Democrat, of course).

Mr. Moore decided members of the General Assembly should be allowed to tack a couple of letters after their names, namely M.G.A., in recognition of their honorable estate as senators and Representatives.

The Republican News thinks this could be dangerous—someone might think the letters meant "Most God-Awful." However, they suggest, perhaps the common man should be accorded some honorable distinction in the form of letters after his name. Something like P. O. T. (Poor Old Taxpayer) or D. O. L. T. (Dumb Old Lowly Taxpayer).

Yes, sure, there's lots of work to be done in Springfield.

Letters to the Editor

In answer to the Pres. of the T.A.A.:

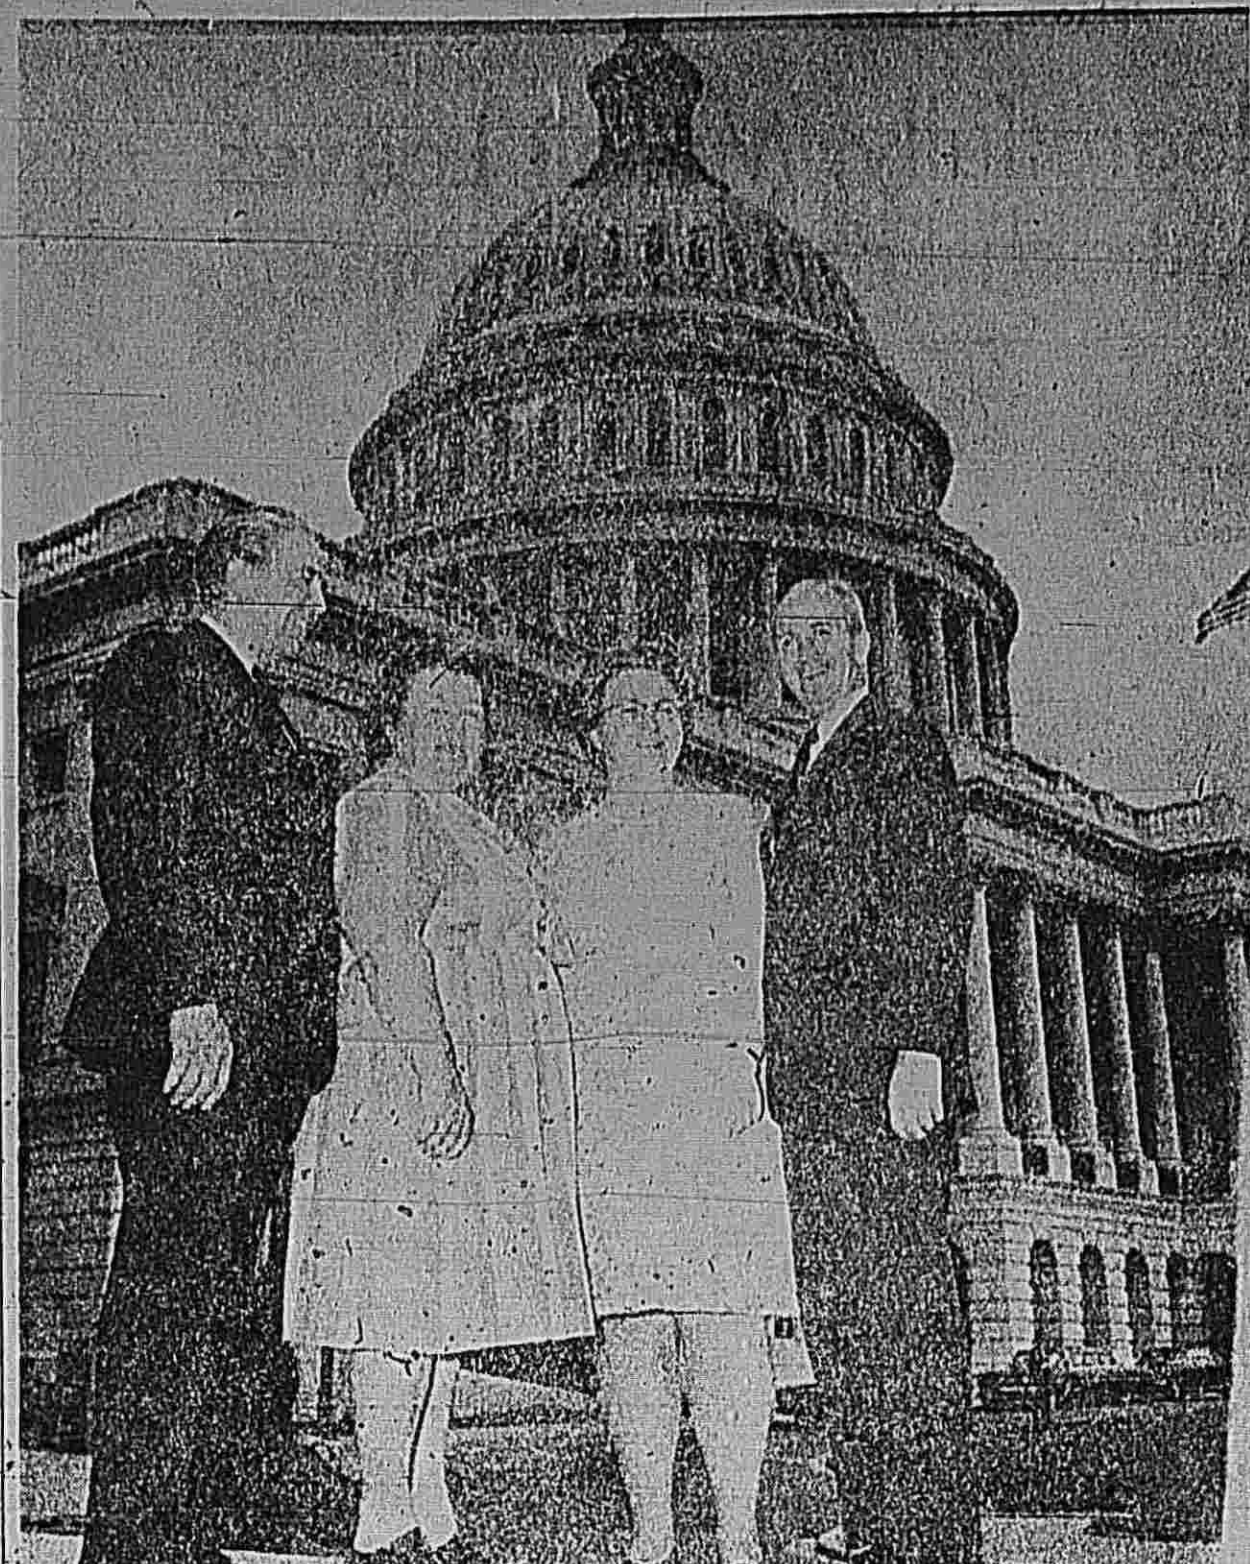

You read my letter incorrectly. I would not be presumptuous to condemn all tavern owners. What I said was, quote "The tavern owner or barkeeper WHO sells liquor to minors," unquote.

Putting the blame on anyone is NEVER a solution but bringing a situation to light is often a remedy. Let's not split hairs. You spread the guilt by naming teenagers, parents and the courts. Now are we to understand you mean the courts NATIONWIDE just because Lake County or Illinois is lax in their punishment? I emphatically disagree with you that the possible solution MAY BE lowering age limits to "conform with the times."

What's so RIGHT about the present time?

And the "mores" of this and many communities could stand some revising. If a teen-ager is educated and sophisticated and still seeks liquor as a diversion—he is definitely in the "minor" that many jobs have a moral responsibility attached to them—either you have a conscience or you don't. To the barkeepers—if the shoe fits—wear it—uncomfortably—I hope.

The Institute for Safer Living states that during a short drive on an average highway the average driver will be required to do the following: make a number of minor driving decisions and at least one major decision; take anywhere from 25 to 125 muscular actions per minute; take evasive action to avoid one or more driving errors; and make up to a hundred or more visual observations per minute requiring eye movement.

The Alex Hoffmans of Grass Lake have had a busy, but happy schedule of entertaining many friends and relatives these past two weeks. They held a graduation party for their grandson, Fred Zimmer of Rolling Meadows, with 80 guests at their home. Fred had attended Grant Community High School, but graduated from the new Forest View High School, near his home. Thirty neighbors and friends greeted the Adolph Lillingers (formerly from Grass Lake) and now residing in Deland, Florida, on their recent visit here. Mrs. Hoffman's brother was here from Indiana, and cousins from Florida and other relatives from Canada were among the many guests welcomed at their place, also.

Mrs. Samuel Ries of Antioch has just returned from a wonderful guided tour of many scenic and historic sites on the east coast. First on her agenda was seeing Niagara Falls, on both the American and Canadian sides. Then, on to New York City, and a yacht trip up the Hudson River, viewing the Hudson Palisades and the beautiful mansions of the wealthy. Rockefeller Center, the Empire State Building, Grant's Tomb, several days at the World's Fair, were climaxed with seeing Barbra Streisand in "Funny Girl," and accidentally glimpsing Governor Rockefeller and his wife leaving the play in their limousine. At the Latin Quarter, she saw Sammy Davis and Marnie Van Doren in person. Next she visited Philadelphia, and was impressed with seeing Betsy Ross' cottage, the Liberty Bell, Christ Church, and the original Declaration of Independence. She enjoyed a fish dinner at the famous Boardwalk in Atlantic City. From there she went on to Washington, D. C., and made a tour of the White House and the gardens. She saw the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery. As she was standing near the late President Kennedy's grave, she saw a distinguished foreign dignitary be escorted within the enclosure to place a floral wreath on the grave. The public is not allowed within the enclosure, however. Their guide told the members of the tour that 20 to 30 wreaths were placed every day on the ex-president's final resting place. Her last stop on this trip was seeing Mount Vernon, George and Martha Washington's home, and finding it a very lovely and gracious residence. Mrs. Ries concluded enthusiastically that she had had a WONDERFUL TIME!

Wilmot Union H. S. Considers Change To K-12 District

The Wilmot Union High School District is considering a plan to convert the districts into a K-12 district (kindergarten through 12th grade).

One important reason for the move is a bill now before the Wisconsin legislature which would eliminate union high school districts in Wisconsin. There is also the possibility that if other districts went K-12, Wilmot could lose territory.

The school committee considering the plan can order formation of a K-12 district and set up a special referendum for voters of the district; order a K-12 district without a referendum, or decide not to order a K-12 district.

Formation of a K-12 district would make substantial changes in the Wilmot district. The complete school system would be under a single governing board and administration. The existing high school would be dissolved and the Lakewood, Randall, Trevor, Wilmot and Wilmotview elementary districts also. Portions of the Wheatland and Salem grade school districts would be detached to become part of the K-12 system.

Federal Land Bank Increases Loans

Thomas L. Frey, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Woodstock, recently participated in the program at the summer meeting of Illinois Land Bank managers, held at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel in St. Louis.

Frey was one of four Illinois managers on the program and presented the topic "Personal Risk Investigation for Making Farm Loans." He urged his co-workers to get facts from the prospective borrower himself. Frey said "no one knows more or wants to talk more about the applicant, than the applicant himself. People are basically honest, and if given the opportunity, will provide factual accounting of their situation, whether good or bad."

Frey was in St. Louis two days, along with 25 other managers for this work conference. Ralph E. Nowlan, President of the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis and his staff reported a record year is in progress for the Land Bank, with loans made the first five months of 1965 in the district up $14½ million over the same period one year ago. Illinois-Missouri-Arkansas farmers have borrowed $45,693,000 so far in 1965, which raises the balance outstanding in the district to $378 million at the present time.

In summarizing 1964 loan activity, it was reported that the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis made 17.3% of the farm loans made in 1964, up from 15.3% for 1963, both percentages based on dollar amount.

TIME FOR TRIMMING—PUSH OR RIDER TYPE

Two of the status symbols of suburban living are having the smallest car and the largest power mower in the neighborhood.

Two opinions exist on the question of push-type versus riders. The advocate of push-type mowers thinks riders are almost as ridiculous as golf carts. If you sit down even to mow your grass, you have about done yourself out of opportunities for exercise around the house. This type of buyer whistles when he looks at the price of good rider lawn-mowers, because some of them approach the price of a real tractor and are still "only playthings."

Others at once point out that riding-mowers are a great boon to the older person and to the disabled individual. They also permit the maintenance of much larger lawns.

Whatever your choice as to models, please remember that any rotary power lawn-mower is a dangerous mechanism. Take great care that children not only stay clear of the blades, but out of the range of rocks and bits of metal which they sometimes throw with the speed and deadly effect of a bullet. Be very strict about this, and save someone a lot of sorrow; insist that toddlers are on the other side of the house when you crank up.

Ill. Council of Evan. Church Meets

Rev. G. Albert Murphy, pastor, and Mr. Paul Blomquist, lay member of Trinity Evangelical United Brethren Church, Beck Road at Valley Drive, will be among the nearly 400 ministerial and lay members representing 46,000 members in Illinois at the 121 annual session of the Illinois Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church convened at North Central College, Naperville, June 22 through 24. Bishop H. R. Heiminger from Minneapolis, Minn., will preside over the session.

Highlighting the conference this year will be the election of a conference superintendent, the ordination of seven ministers, the assignments of ministers to churches and the discussion of union with the Methodist Church. Dr. Paul A. Washburn, Executive Secretary of the Commission on Church Union for the denomination, will address the conference, giving information on the proposed union which will be voted on at the 1966 General Conference. Bishop Thomas Pryor from the Rock River Conference of the Methodist Church was a guest of the conference on Tuesday afternoon, bringing greetings and a devotional message.

All ministerial and lay members serve on committees of the conference, which review the work of Boards and Departments for the past year and consider proposed program for the year ahead. In addition reports from the colleges, seminaries and homes are given for the information of the members of the church. The final approval of program and budget for the year ahead are also matters for the conference to consider.

HORTICULTURE ENTRIES SOUGHT

4-H'ers Learn Public Speaking From Experts

Scores of 4-H Club boys and girls are helped every day to overcome shyness, stagefright, inability to talk before groups and lack of self-confidence. The help comes from diligent effort applied in the 4-H Public Speaking program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Adults skilled in the art of public speaking often serve as project leaders, and other resource people in the community volunteer to work with the budding orators. Not only are they taught basic steps in researching, writing and delivering a speech, but they also are coached in the use of communication tools such as tape recorders, microphones, television, radio and print media.

One of the top two 4-H speakers in the nation last year, is continuing his public speaking education in college. He said that his 4-H training helped him to decide on a career in the legal profession.

Many teenagers find that public speaking experience aids them in recreational activities both in and out of 4-H. Even holding an office or presiding at a meeting is a little less formidable, they say, after participating in a public speaking project or activity.

There are three main categories of competition in this program: county, state and national. Awards consist of attractive medals, an engraved wristwatch for the top boy state champion, and a beautiful chest of table silver for the top girl.

The state winners can try for a $500 educational scholarship.

FIRST COLOR SLIDE EXHIBIT

The first International Exhibition of Color Slide Photography at the Illinois State Fair will be featured at the 1965 exposition. Four slides exposed by an entrant may be submitted before July 26. The winning slides will be shown daily in the Illinois Building. The exhibit is sponsored jointly by the State Fair and the 35 Camera Club of Springfield.

The 1965 Illinois State Fair will open Friday, August 13, and run through Sunday, August 22.

Dr. SIMS says SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

ARE YOU A POTENTIAL DIABETIC?

While diabetes can be easily controlled, it continues to rank as the eighth leading cause of death in Illinois.

Why? Because only about half of the state's estimated 192,000 diabetics are aware of their affliction and are doing something about it. Since the other half—some 87,000—are unaware of their problem, their condition grows progressively worse, leading to serious complications.

Among these complications are heart disease, hardening of the arteries, kidney disorders and loss of vision. The latter is so common, in fact, that diabetes is recognized as the third leading cause of blindness in the United States.

How does diabetes start? It develops when the pancreas can no longer produce enough insulin to convert certain foods—such as sugars and starches into energy. As a result, these "wasted" sugars accumulate in the blood and are passed through the kidneys into the urine.

Among its most common symptoms are: excessive thirst, frequent urination, extreme hunger, loss of weight, changes in vision, slow healing of cuts and bruises, intense itching, pain in fingers and toes, drowsiness and fatigue.

While anyone can become diabetic, the condition is found primarily in people with a family history of diabetes in their family, those over 40, the overweight and women.

People with a family history of diabetes. Heredity plays a big role in this disease. In fact diabetes is five times more common among offsprings of diabetics than others.

Those over 40. Because the likelihood of becoming a diabetic increases with age, diabetes is mostly a disease of the middle aged and elderly.

The overweight. More than 80 per cent of all diabetics are overweight before their condition develops, and most are overweight at the time their condition is discovered.

Women. Two out of every three diabetics are women over 25 years of age. Married women are especially susceptible. Why? No one knows for sure, but it is suspected that strain on the glandular system—due to pregnancy and menopause—affects the body's use of starches and sugars.

Although diabetes cannot be cured, it can be controlled under a doctor's supervision. In fact, one out of every three diabetic conditions can be curbed by diet alone.

These are usually in the over forty age group. When the condition sets in earlier, it is more likely to be severe. Thus insulin or specific oral compounds may be needed to correct the deficiency.

With today's methods of treatment, the diabetic can feel well and live a normal well-adjusted life. Without treatment, however, he lives in constant danger.

Are you one of Illinois' 87,000 unknown diabetics? Only a blood test tells for sure.

Illinois House Kills Branch Banking

The proposal to allow branch banking in Illinois was defeated in the Illinois House last week.

Lake County lawmakers split in the vote on the proposition. Voting for the bill were Republican Representatives John H. Kleine and Democratic Representatives Daniel M. Pierce and William E. Hartnett.

Voting against it were Reps. Francis J. Berry and John H. Conolly.

SLOW MOVING VEHICLES ON PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

Illinois law requires a red flag by day and approved lights by night on all slow moving vehicles using the public highways. Farm tractors and other "slowmoving" farm equipment must display a red flag in the daytime and be properly lighted at night. Car drivers must be alert for slow moving vehicles.

Hats Off

"One of the most taken-for-granted jobs in any city, village or town is that of the fireman. In a small community a fire of any great consequence is seldom seen but when one does occur the deep appreciation for having an efficient, reliable crew on hand at all times is revived anew in the proud hearts of the awed beholder."

Rapid Robert Races To Big Win at Wilmot Track

Rapid Robert Ratajczyk of Waukegan, scored a big win in the 25 lap feature race at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot Saturday night. It was a big win in the distance that he finished ahead of the second place car. Robert was nearly three-quarters of a lap ahead of Bob Strunk of Kenosha but behind Strunk it was a different story. One of the tightest groups of racing machines seen this year, tried hard to get by Strunk and Jim Lawrence but just couldn't make it.

Strunk drove an Oldsmobile powered modified that took off out of the corners just enough to make it impossible to get around him at the end of the stretch. Finishing behind Lawrence, who was third, were Gino Wagner; Bill Strom of Milwaukee; Chuck Uttech; Kenny Tolugan; Bill Bohn and Rodger Otto.

In the 15 lap semi feature, Jim Sullivan of Antioch, won in the car formerly driven here to two season championships by Eddie Stillman. Sullivan's car burned out a clutch in the earlier heats. Second was Pensack followed by Bill Kline and Bob Anzinger.

Modified heat races were won by Bay Darnell of Deerfield; Lee Weslawski of East Troy; Rodger Otto of Burlington and Don Scoree of West Allis.

The 15-lap spectator feature was won by Harold Gutchie of Kenosha as he added to his slim margin of point leadership in that division. Richard Nelson of Camp Lake flipped several times at the start of this race but was not injured and crawled out of the overturned car very quickly.

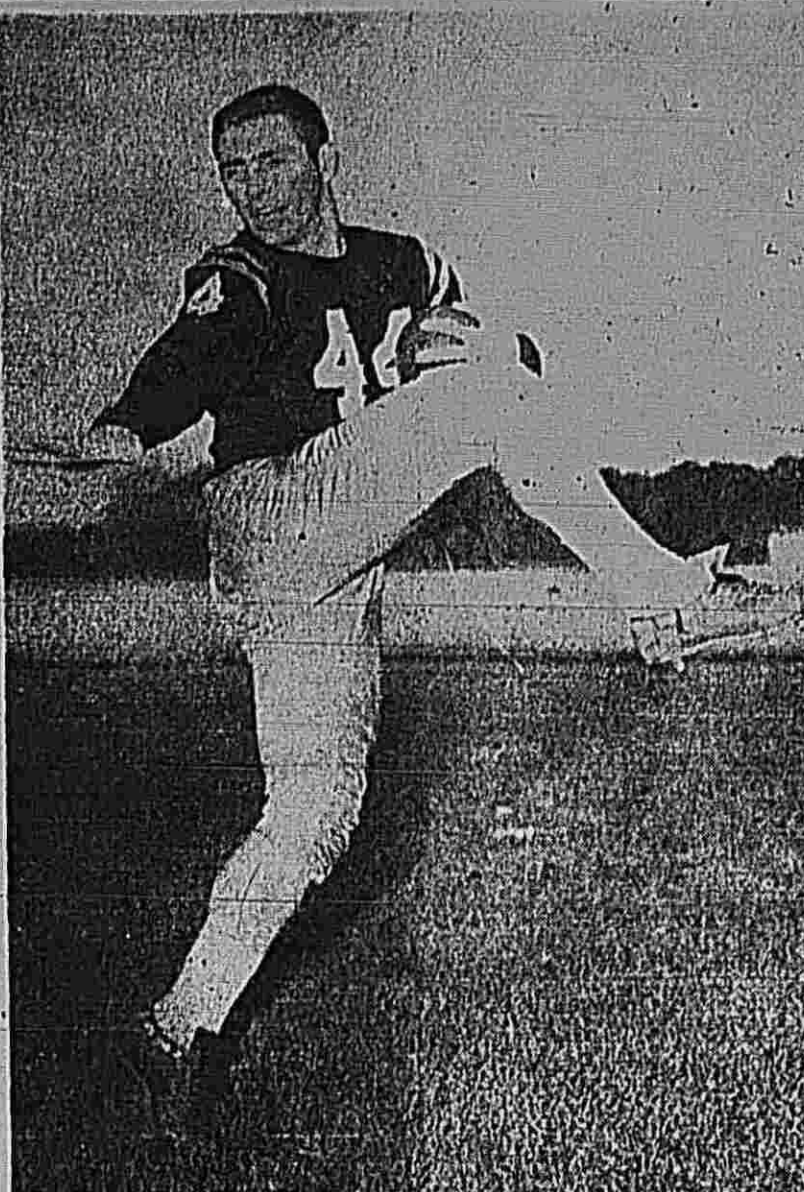

Many of the drivers were honored with Father's Day cakes baked by the fans. Pop Kline of Pell Lake, also celebrated his 51st birthday with a heat race win of the spectator races.

You can't know what's ahead, around a curve, or over a hill. But this is no excuse for not thinking ahead. Think ahead half a mile, half a minute. It's a small margin, but it may be enough to save your life.

ANGELO DABIERO, former All-American, will be playing with the Rifles when they go into action this fall.

Rifles Sign All-American

An all-American player has signed to play football with the Rifle team of the Central States League. He is Angelo Dabiero, who also is the club's director of player personnel.

Dabiero, who will play half back for the Lake County eleven, was an all-state player at Donora High School in Pennsylvania and in one game scored seven touchdowns, all over 35 yards.

Dabiero, who now lives in Mundelein, entered Notre Dame in 1958 where he received three varsity football letters, while earning all-American honors. At Notre Dame, Angelo gained over 1,000 yards, a feat accomplished by only 10 Irish players since World War II.

Dabiero later played in the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco, the Buffalo all-American clash, and the all-star game in Chicago. He was drafted by the Boston Patriots of the American Football league but decided to enter the coaching profession.

New Chairman For Conservation District

Russell Gwaltney of Lake Villa was appointed to serve as a director of the Lake County Soil & Water Conservation District at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors recently. He has been serving as Assistant Director for several months.

Gwaltney replaces Dr. S. Burton Lee of Grayslake who has served on the board for 4½ years, the last two as chairman.

The Conservation District, planted 87,500 seedling trees this spring. Tree planting is one of the best methods of controlling soil erosion and providing cover for wildlife. It has been one of the most successful projects of the District, according to Donald Adams of Wadsworth, vice-chairman of the group.

The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, July 7, at the Farm Bureau Building.

Crashes And Spins Confuse Feature Race

Dennis Burgan became the second late model stock car driver to win three races at the Waukegan Speedway, Saturday night. Burgan moved quickly past several accidents and spins to challenge Jim Luther, finally taking the lead on the seventh circuit.

The feature began on a sour note when leader Ray Faulkner spun in front of the entire field, being rammed head-on by Bob Gilo. Cars darted in every direction with Jim Cossman, second spot point man, tanking with Toby Aaron.

Cossman who earlier defeated Burgan for second spot in a heat race, was out of action for the night as was Faulkner, Gilo and Bill Remter. Odell Jones, who defeated both Cossman and Burgan in that earlier heat race, was taken out of contention when he and John Beardsley hit the wall midway in the feature.

Luther shadowed Burgan to the finish line, but settled for his fifth second place feature finish. John Hood moved up steadily through out the race to gain third spot. Hood also has won three features.

Luther moved out to win the second heat race which was stopped in the fifth lap when Sonny Rivers' Chevy burst into flames. Rivers scrambled to safety as the rescue crew extinguished the fire. Later in the evening Rivers returned, performing the identical stunt... again without injury.

Ed Smith rammed his '57 DeSoto to victory in the eighth car head-on team demolition derby, representing Butch's Auto Parts. Next week Butch's father, Andy Anderson, intends to personally head a team going against his son in another demo.

The figure 8 event saw earlier winner Gerry Pye flip in the opening laps. Later as Gary Torres kept his Buick in the lead, Jerry Moon rolled over at the intersection, stopping the race.

On July 3, the late model pilots will compete in a big 35 lap feature. Also in that show, another demolition derby will be staged.

Galena is sulphide of lead.

Back-Seal Drivers - Boon or Bane?

Back-seat driving — done intelligently — can be a help to the actual driver of the car, according to the Chicago Motor Club.

Here are some hints from the motor club on how to be a good automobile passenger:

1. Don't startle the driver. Don't shout "Look" to call the driver's attention to a beautiful sunset or some scenic attraction. As his involuntary reflexes snap his head around at your exclamation, the car ahead may suddenly slow down or another car may pull out from a side road.

2. Don't irritate the driver by continuously pointing out hazards, traffic signs and driving conditions that are perfectly obvious to him. Unless a real emergency is present, wait a few moments before pointing out that the speed limit has been reduced or that there's a stop sign ahead. Only if you're reasonably certain some point has escaped the driver's attention should you sound off.

3. Learn to read maps. If possible, take the full responsibility for navigating on long trips. Read road signs and other bits of interesting information aloud. Don't just point them out to the driver and cause him to take his eyes off the road.

4. On long trips, don't fall asleep. Stay awake and keep the driver company — or he may join you in slumber, with disastrous results.

5. Converse with the driver, but don't argue, shout or get him angry.

6. Be helpful. Light his cigarette, tune the radio, unwrap the candy bars. If the driver tries to do two things at once, they may be the last things he ever does.

7. Too many people take driving for granted. It's a full-time job for one man, but if a passenger understands himself as a co-driver, he will make motoring easier for everyone.

John Birch Society Schedules Meetings
